G C	Chorus
It starts out with a look of wonder written on my face	Senior moments, brain farts
D G	I try hard to remember, but the process never starts
Followed by a fear of something being out of place	Yeah it could have been some ice cream or those blueberry
C	tarts
But searching as I look around for something I can't find	Senior moments, brain farts
A D
And I wonder just what it was that ever crossed my mind.	Well it happened at a Wal-Mart store
	I can't remember where or when
Chorus	But I stood there like a zombie wondering why I just walked in
C G	The greeter said "Hello sir, what would you like to see?"
Senior moments, brain farts	But I had a senior moment and they tried to hire me!
D G
Try hard to remember, but the process never starts	Chorus
C G Em	Senior moments, brain farts
Yes, staring into space for me is usually how it starts	I try hard to remember, but the process
C D G	I guess I looked bewildered standing there among the carts
Senior moments, brain farts	Senior moments brain farts
Well, I was standing in the kitchen, I had opened up the fridge	So I told my Doctor that my short memory cells were on the
And I stood there for the longest moment wondering why I did	blink
I couldn't think of one good reason so I finally shut the door	And I asked him "Could he fix it?" he said
And I wondered what I put in thereDid I want some more?	"Maybe, let me think."
	Then he asked me how long I'd had this problem
	Was it old or new?
	I looked at him and said, "What problem?" and
	"Who are you?"

Chorus

Senior moments, brain farts
I try hard to remember but the process never starts
I get 'em by the dozen, Doc, sometimes they're off the charts
Senior moments, brain farts

So I stopped in at the pharmacy to look for something new And try to fix this memory thing and my E.D. problem too But I got my Rogaine pills and my Viagra mixed up back at home

I had hair growing in real thick but Lord, it was way too stiff to comb.

Chorus

Senior moments, brain farts
I try hard to remember but the process never starts
Yeah mixing up those medicines ain't really very smart,
Senior moments, brain farts
