F C
We see a dozen dreams in every passing mile.
F Bb
Can't begin to count the trips she and I have made,
C
But I wish I had a dollar for each time we've both been down this grade.

Bb C Nine hundred thousand tons of steel,	<pre> ----- ----- ----- ---0-3---3---3--- -3-----3---3--- -----1---1--- </pre>

Eb Bb
The brakes don't work and this grade's too steep,
Her engine's sure to blow.
Bb C Dm
Nine hundred thousand tons of steel, out of control,

Gm	Bb	C
She's more a rollercoaster than the train I used to know.

2. It's one hell of an understatement, to say she can't be beat.
 She's temperamental, more a bitch than a machine.
 She wasn't built to travel at speed a rumor flies.
 These wheels are bound to jump the tracks before they burn the ties

3. Murphy sure out done himself to pick this stretch of track
I can only hope my luck is ridin' in the back.
Well I have prayed to God this ain't the day we meet,
I've done 'bout everything, but try dragging my feet.

Chorus

Bb C F
Oh, oh I want to go down slow.
Eb Bb C
